

AS AN ENEMY AIR PILOT WOULD VIEW THE CONNECTICUT SOUND SHORE

BEAUTIFUL ISLAND
COUNTRY PLACE OF
ANSON PHELPS
STOKES, PHOTOGRAPHED
AT AN ALTITUDE
OF 1,000
FEET

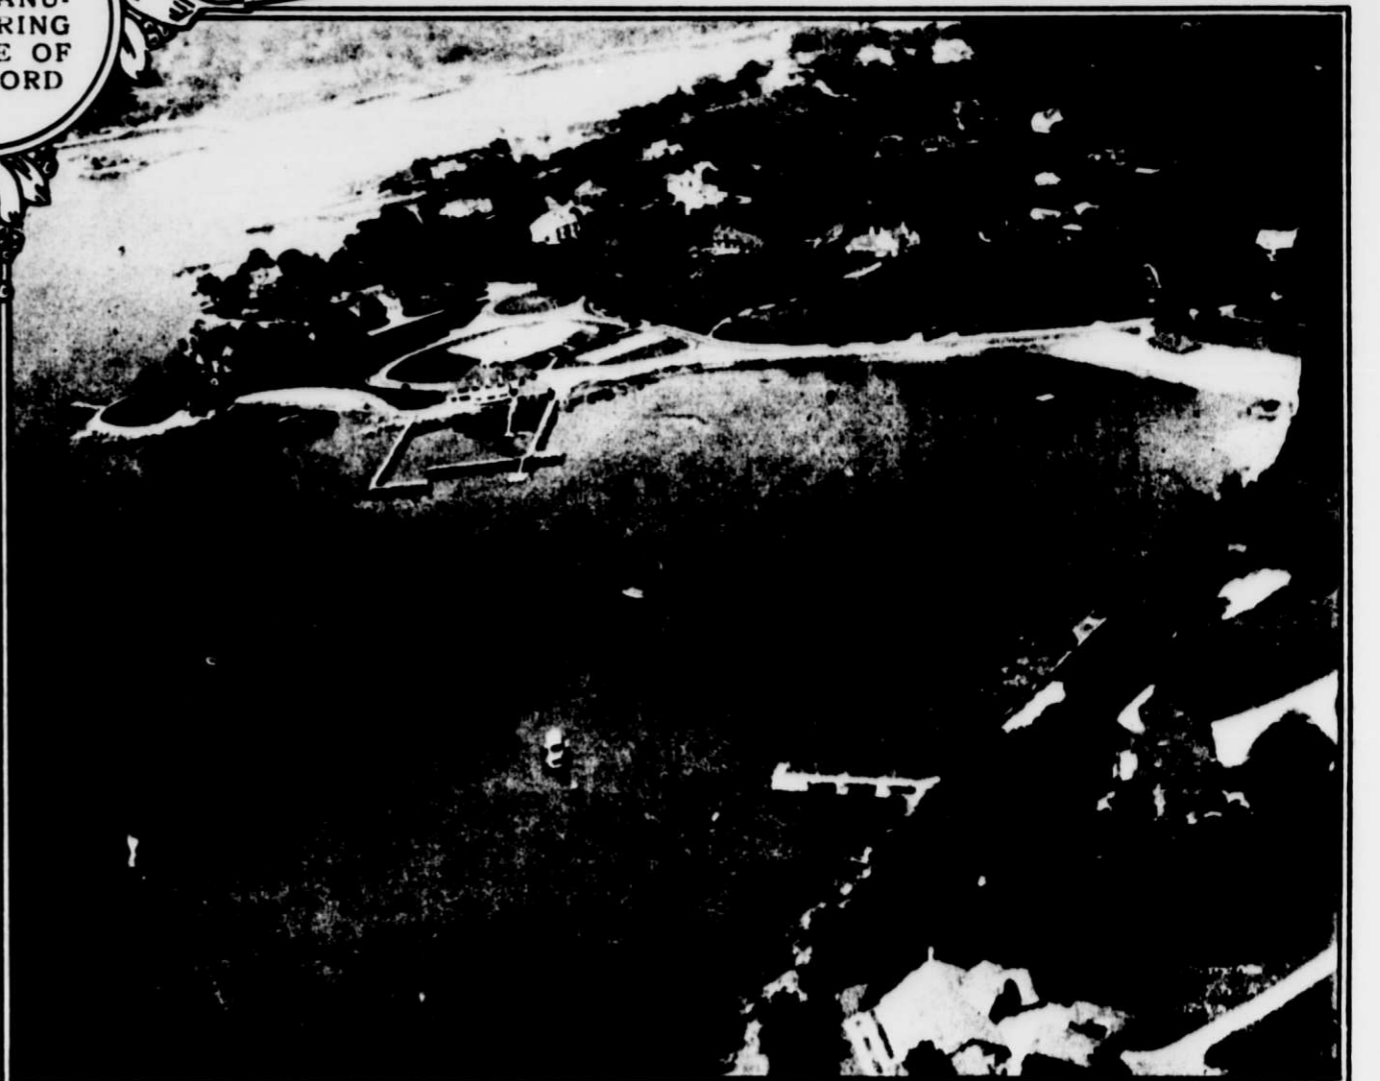

SOUND BEACH,
CONN., SHOWING
PIER LEADING TO "YE OLDE
GREENWICH INN" FROM AN ALTITUDE OF 2,500 FT.

The taking of these remarkable photographs so mystified the authorities that United States Secret Service men were sent to Stamford to learn the purpose of the flights.

They show how an invader could from aeroplanes seek out fortifications and safe harbors before bringing his fleet close in or attempting a landing of troops.

THE BUSINESS
AND MANU-FACTURING
CENTRE OF STAMFORD

SHIPPAN POINT AND THE SURROUNDING COUNTRY FROM AN ALTITUDE OF 3,000 FEET.

FIELDS POINT, AT GREENWICH, CONN., SHOWING THE YACHT CLUB FROM
1,500 FEET.

Photos, copyright, by Brown & Dawson. From Underwood & Underwood.